

CARE FOR THE FUTURE

A Guide to Sustainable Homecare

Building a Greener, MORE ETHICAL CARE SECTOR

Sustainability isn't just about reducing waste—it's about building a future where high-quality care, ethical business practices, and environmental responsibility go hand in hand.

The Care for the Future initiative is dedicated to helping homecare providers adopt sustainable, socially responsible, and forward-thinking practices that benefit both their businesses and the communities they serve.

Why Sustainability Matters in Homecare

The homecare industry is one of the UK's fastest-growing sectors—but it also faces challenges in:

- ♥ High carbon footprints from travel and energy use.
- ♥ Staff shortages and workforce burnout.
- ♥ Rising costs that put pressure on care businesses.
- ♥ Increasing demands for social value in tendering.

Sustainability isn't just about going green— it's about:
Protecting the environment through responsible business practices.

Supporting staff well-being with fair pay and ethical recruitment.

Providing better care by creating sustainable, community-focused models.

Meeting social value requirements to win more contracts.

Care for the Future helps providers tackle these challenges, creating a care sector that thrives long-term.

The Benefits of Joining Care for the Future

By committing to sustainability and social responsibility, your care business can:

By joining Care for the Future, you'll gain credibility, increase efficiency, and future-proof your business.

How to Build a Sustainable Care Business

Not sure where to start?

Care for the Future helps providers take action in three key areas:

Environmental Sustainability

- ♥ Reduce waste by switching to digital records instead of paper.
- ♥ Use energy-efficient vehicles or encourage staff to use public transport.
- ♥ Source eco-friendly PPE and cleaning supplies.

Workforce Sustainability

- ♥ Offer fair wages and career progression opportunities.
- ♥ Reduce staff burnout by implementing better shift planning.
- ♥ Invest in well-being programs for carers.

Social Value & Community Impact

- ♥ Support local apprenticeships to develop the next generation of carers.
- ♥ Partner with local charities and social enterprises.
- ♥ Engage in volunteering and outreach programs to give back to the community.

Care for the Future provides a structured approach to embedding sustainability into your care business.
